1. P.A. Yudin, the new Soviet Ambassador to Peiping has persuaded Mao Tse-tung to meet Malenkov at Shiän-Jan (formerly Mukden) during the first weeks of Feb 1954. The meeting will be kept secret and no communiqués will be issued during or after the conference, which is being scheduled to coincide with the Berlin meetings in order not to attract the attention of Western observers.
2. Malenkov will bring G.M. Khrushchev with him and Mao Tse-tung will be accompanied by Chu Teh, deputy chairman of the Chinese Government.
3. The purpose of the conference is to review the whole situation in Asia and to find a line of compromise between the Pan-Russian tendency of the present government in the Kremlin and the Pan-Asiatic tendency of the Peiping Government. Due to the number of clashes between the two policies recently, the greatest importance is attached to the meeting by both parties, and the strictest secrecy has been imposed on all connected with it.
